

Which IIBA[®] Business
Analysis Certification is RIGHT for you?

ECBA™

ENTRY CERTIFICATE IN BUSINESS ANALYSIS

It is awesome because...

It gives you a foot in the door for that first Business Analysis role. It shows employers you are serious about entering the market or progressing in your current BA role. The best part - it puts an internationally recognised certificate on your resume!

What do you need?

- You must earn 21 PD Hours
- You must study the BABOK® v3 Guide (relevant sections)
- Then sit the exam in the comfort of your own home!

How to go about it?

Enrol for the online BABOK v3 Core Practitioner Course (you will earn 22 PD hours)

Visit the iiba.org website and sign up to do the ECBA exam online!

CCBA™

CERTIFICATION OF CAPABILITY IN BUSINESS ANALYSIS®

Perfect if you have 2-3 years of BA experience

It is awesome because...

It gives mid level Business Analysts the ability to show progression at work and demonstrates capability in Business Analysis and proven industry experience. A great credential to show potential employers when you want to move between jobs. The best part - it puts an internationally recognised designation after your name!

What do you need?

- You must earn 21 PD Hours
- Apply directly to the IIBA® to sit the exam (this is when you document your practical experience)
- You must study the BABOK® v3 Guide (relevant sections)
- Then sit the exam at an approved test center

How to go about it?

CBAP™

CERTIFIED BUSINESS ANALYSIS PROFESSIONAL®

Perfect if you have more than 5 years of BA experience

It is awesome because...

The CBAP® is the most senior exam based IIBA® certification that is available to senior and experienced Business Analysts. It is also the most well known in the industry and therefore the ultimate designation to add to your career as a practicing Professional Business Analyst.

What do you need?

- You must earn 35 PD Hours
- Apply directly to the IIBA® to sit the exam (this is when you document your practical experience)
- You must study the BABOK® v3 Guide and be able to interpret concepts for practical real world scenarios

Agile Analyst Certification

Perfect if you have more than 2 years of Agile experience

It is awesome because...

This is the only Agile certification that acknowledges and explicitly defines the role that analysis play within the Agile environment. It demonstrates that as the Agile Business Analysis Practitioner you are highly proficient in applying analysis throughout the Agile life cycle and different planning horizons.

What do you need?

- It is recommended that you have 2 or more years of practical experience as an analyst in an Agile project environment. However the work experience is not a mandatory requirement.
- Apply directly to the IIBA® to sit the exam
- You must study the Agile Extension v2.0 to the BABOK® v3 Guide in it's entirety and be able to interpret concepts for practical real world scenarios. You should also have a solid working knowledge of the techniques.
- Then sit the exam at an approved test center

How to go about it?

Enrol for the online Agile BA Practitioner Course (you will earn 16 PD hours) - this is a comprehensive course covering the Agile Extension v2 to the BABOK v3 Guide.
